

Windsor late in 2011.

are provider to be traded on the stock exchange. The company the acquisition and improvement of existing child care centres, and ross Canada. Citing the current fragmentation of Canada's child ditional benchmarks, their presentation to investors suggests that a Group, Inc, n.d.). Edleun has been moving across Canada, Alberta and recently in Ontario. A 2010 Globe and Mail article es, and adds that if it achieves this, it will control 10 percent of the

Australia

of Edleun have strong links to former Australian child care giant Learning Centres collapsed in November 2008 at the beginning of BC ran more than 1,000 centres. ABC Learning Centres' share of the ificant that the government has spent over A$100 million to bail the gulations (Penn, 2010). Penn suggests that lessons can be learnt ecessions, priv

References

City of Toronto, Children's Services. (2011, October). Toronto's licensed child care system – Fall 2011 [Fact sheet]. Retrieved from Children's Services: www.toronto.ca/children/pdf/factsheet\_fall2011.pdf

Cleveland, G. (2008, April). If it don't make dollars, does that mean that it don't make sense? Commercial, Nonprofit and Municipal Child Care in the City of Toronto [A report to the Children's Services Division, City of Toronto]. Retrieved from Children's Services: www.toronto.ca/children/pdf/cleveland\_report\_may08.pdf

Edleun Group, Inc. (n.d.). Investor Presentation. Retrieved from www.edleungroup.com/

Ladurantaye, S. (2010, September 29). Expansion: Edleun eager to expand child care reach outside Alberta. Globe and Mail